Focus Area: Collective Responsibility

All staff of CCSD, including teachers, EA's, lunch monitors, and admin have undergone training in recognizing and responding to worrisome behaviour in our schools and communities. Early recognition of concerning behaviour is a critical part of keeping schools safe, inclusive, and supportive. When adults understand the early warning signs that a student or colleague may be struggling, they are better equipped to respond early, connect individuals with appropriate supports, and help prevent concerns from escalating.

STAY SAFE IN THE HEAT

LIMIT SUN EXPOSURE

During high temperatures try to stay indoors or in shaded areas between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., when the sun is strongest.

DRESS FOR SAFETY

Children should wear a wide-brimmed sun hat and sunglasses with 100% UV (broad spectrum) protection.

LOOK FOR HEAT EXHAUSTION SIGNS

- Fatigue
- Thirst
- Leg or stomach cramps
- Cool, moist skin

If you notice any signs bring the child indoors to rest, remove extra layers of clothing, and offer small sips of water.

APPLY SPF 30 SUNSCREEN

Apply at least 30 minutes before going outside.
Don't forget: ears, nose, neck, and tops of feet.

STAY HYDRATED

Encourage frequent water breaks—even if children don't say they're thirsty.

School staff can access information on preparing for heat events and other safety measures and resources.
